Spiced Mushroom Tempura

A crispy mélange of oyster, enoki and oringi mushrooms from the Royal Project Farms. The spiced tempura batter made from an old-fashioned recipe passed down from one generation to the next makes this an authentic family creation. Served with a duo of sweet chili and creamy dipping sauce to satisfy all taste buds. Pop one of these in your mouth and then another. Simply addictive.

Yum Tawai Gai

Healthy and delicious, yum tawai is an ancient Thai recipe that is so authentic that it earned itself a place in the Thai Language Dictionary. This savory salad is made of fresh local vegetables such as morning glory, sweet basil and horse tamarind and then tossed in mildly spiced tamarind coconut milk dressing. Topped with fried garlic, shallots, peanut and chicken, yum tawai is full of flavor, aroma and nutrition.

Pan-fried 'Tom Yum Goong' J'Fa

The fiery flavors of Thailand's celebrated hot and sour soup inspired Pongsak 'J'Fa' Siriphan, our affable restaurant manager and often inspired cook to create this delicious twist on a traditional favorite. Seared tiger prawns topped with a pungent dollop of eye-popping chili paste and seasoned with lemongrass, galangal, shallots, freshly squeezed lime juice and a handful of roughly crushed cashew nuts make for a perfect meal when served with a side of steaming fragrant jasmine rice. Tom 'Yum' Yummy!

Spicy clear herbal soup straight from the northeast of Thailand. Hearty braised beef brisket, shank and strip loin are slow cooked and flavored with fish sauce, tamarind paste and chilli in a broth enriched with Thai herbs such as galangal, lemongrass, kaffir lime leaf and cilantro. Ground roasted sticky rice is added just before serving to give the soup its special aroma and thickness. Served with jasmine rice.

Kao Kloog Namprík Plaa Haeng 'Burmese Style'

This special fried rice recipe was influenced by the cuisine of neighboring Burma. Pan-fried dried fish gives the dish its distinctive flavor while scallions, garlic and dried chili flakes add depth and zing. Freshly made chili paste is then tossed with steaming hot jasmine rice. Served with fresh vegetables, boiled salted egg and caramelized pork for the perfectly balanced flavor and texture.

In the past, this traditional dish used to be a favorite in grandmothers' kitchens across northern Thailand. Now, harder to find, we have recreated its home-style goodness using braised succulent lamb shoulder cooked over very low heat for hours until it's fall-off-the-bone tender before wok-frying it with a secret blend of local herbs and spices and a dash of fish sauce to give depth to the flavor. Served with fresh vegetables.
